

OUR STORY

When Hallie first made her move out west in 2014, it was time to retire from her boxed wine era and make a trip to California Wine Country. The first winery she visited was Sapphire Hill in Healdsburg. During her subsequent visits to Sonoma County, she was drawn back by the delicious wine she was discovering and the welcoming hospitality she experienced when visiting the tasting room.

A year later she rolled into her first ever online date and met Tony (talk about a hot hand!). Not long after, he had to get the pass from the crew at Sapphire Hill in what turned out to be their first of many trips to wine country together learning about and enjoying wine. Fast forward to 2019, we were married in Oakland with a Sapphire Hill tasting table set up at the edges of the reception.

When the world began to emerge from the pandemic, we—like many others—decided it was time to pursue something new in life. In another lucky break, Chris and Lisa simultaneously decided it was time to retire and approached us with an opportunity to purchase the winery. Tony quickly shelved his “bougie bodega” idea and a few weeks later was sorting grapes with Lisa on the crush pad.

After calling Oakland home for a decade and having just completed our third harvest, we are elated to now host our friends, club members, and newcomers a little closer to home at our Oakland Outpost in addition to our tasting room in Healdsburg.

Our goal is to bring wine country magic to the East Bay with a rotating selection of our finest handcrafted, limited production creations from Sonoma County in a space that reflects our inclusive approach to wine tasting and commitment to creating memorable experiences through exceptional drink and service.

Cheers!
